MADRID, July 30.—Under secret orders, new waves of Socialist militia and hastily recruited civilian men and women rolled out of Madrid today to combat the Fascist rebellion still threatening Spain's leftist regime from north, south, northwest and southeast.

Changing its policy of announcing the destination of each new battalion of reinforcements, the government cloaked latest defensive measures in absolute secrecy, obviously hoping to catch the enemy unawares with strong loyal forces. End of the second week of the bloodiest civil war in Spain's history found the government still hard-pressed, but official communiques and inspired newspaper announcements continued to boast of government progress.

They claimed rebel strongholds in Seville, Cordoba, Saragossa, Burgos and Valladolid are expected to surrender at any time.

Editor's Note: Uncensored dispatches failed to bear out these claims. General Francisco Franco, revolt leader, has established headquarters at Huelva near Seville, while the rebel radio station in the latter city today claimed the fall of Valencia into rebel hands.

Rebels fighting in the Sierras north of Madrid are giving ground daily under steady hammering by loyal forces, the government said. The government's move to seize without compensation the property and colossal fortune of Juan March, tobacco magnate and Spain's wealthiest man, was officially admitted in the official gazette with announcement that the Trans-Mediterranean Steamship Company, Spain's largest shipping organization, had been confiscated. Seizure of March's properties was first disclosed by International News Service. His holdings in the Trans-Mediterranean outfit are believed to total about $2,100,000.

Training Continues
Meanwhile, intensive training of militiamen in Madrid and elsewhere continued. Formation of a new regiment of picked men known as the "steel column" was announced today while the government (Continued On Page Two)

Would-Be Bandit Henry Ford Is Dies From Bullet Of Erie Officer

Police Officer Shoots When Ordered To "Drop Your Gun" Early Today

BULLET STRIKES BANDIT IN CHEST

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., July 30.—A would-be bandit paid with his life today for an attempted holdup that failed. Fatally wounded by Patrolman Pat McDannel, the would-be holdup man, Frank Wiczorkowski, 28, died early today in the Hamot hospital.

Wiczorkowski was wounded when McDannel responded to a call from R. P. Beckwith, the intended victim who fled in his car after the holdup man accosted him at a gasoline station. When Beckwith drove up to the garage to park his car for the night he was accosted by a man who told him to put up his hands. When the man turned to investigate a noise in the garage, Beckwith drove away and called police.

McDannel responded and saw a man lurking behind a house. "I ordered him to come out but he flashed a gun and said 'drop your gun,'" McDannel related.

"I fired one shot which struck him in the chest. He fell to the ground and said 'You've got me.'"

"We took him to the Hamot hospital,"

Coroner W. G. Stroh ordered a post mortem for later today.

U. S. Seeks To Get Citizens Out Of Spain

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 30.—With deepening anxiety, the American government today bent every diplomatic resource at its command to complete removal of its citizens from blood-drenched Spain.

The chief cause of concern lay in the interior where the bitterest fighting of the civil war is raging. The majority of American citizens in seacoast cities already have been evacuated by warships and merchantmen of the United States and foreign powers.

But in Spain's interior country, where the revolution brought an abrupt severance of railroad and highway travel and a virtually complete breakdown of communication, the plight of many Americans remained veiled in mystery. Through its consular representatives, the American government today turned to the radio in the desperate hope of reaching Americans in the interior and speeding their flight to the sea.

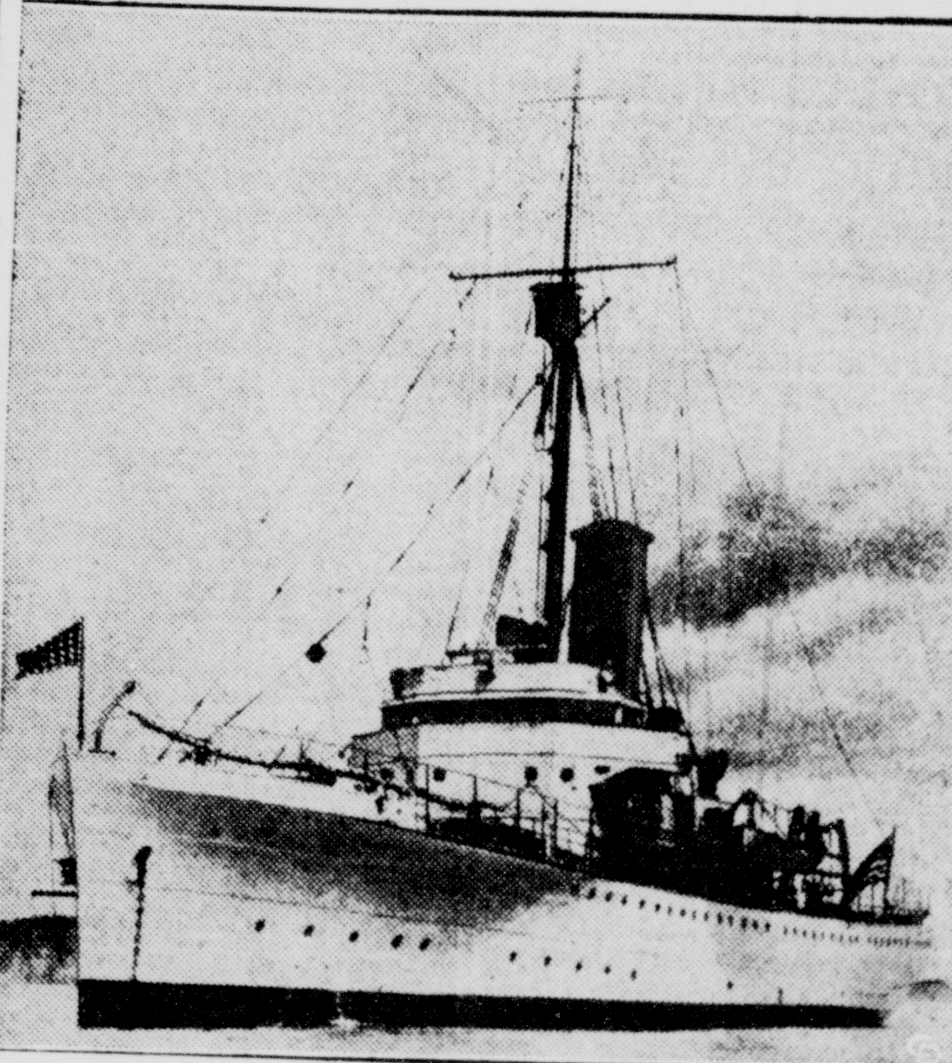

LANDON PARTY INVITED HERE

In a letter to National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton of the Republican Party, Thomas M. Boyle, manager of The Castleton Hotel, has invited the Landon party to make its headquarters here on Saturday, Aug. 22, when Governor Alf M. Landon speaks in West Middlesex.

The hotel facilities in Mercer county are inadequate to handle a party such as the Landon party will bring while The Castleton is admirably suited to such a purpose. However, it is probable that the party will go on from West Middlesex in a special train bound for Buffalo, N. Y.

WARSAW, July 30.—One officer was killed and 11 were injured today when lightning struck a captive balloon near Gdynia. One officer escaped injury by leaping to earth by parachute.

Even as Bowers made this move the Spanish government guaranteed that Americans and their property in Madrid would be protected.

Says Cattle Men Support Landon

Wyoming Visitors Tell Governor Landon Roosevelt's Influence In West On Wane

TRADE TREATIES HAVE BAD EFFECT

(International News Service)

TOPEKA, Kas., July 30.—Two brawny sun-tanned weather-beaten cattle men from Wyoming today told Gov. Alfred M. Landon he would carry the mountain states and every section of the nation where cattle graze.

Frank O. Horton and Elmer Brock of Buffalo, Wyo., brought him this message. They agreed President Roosevelt's influence was waning in the west, because of disastrous effects of reciprocal trade treaties, heavy importation of foreign cattle and a "vicious administration" of the national grazing act.

This message came to Landon on the heels of a forecast by two shrewd Republican leaders of New York that he would carry the Empire state in November. The New York prediction was made by William M. Chadbourn, who managed Fiorella La Guardia's successful mayoralty campaign in New York City in 1933 and Col. William J. Donovan, of Buffalo, one-time assistant attorney general. Both declared upstate New York heavily for Landon while Chadbourn said he wouldn't be surprised if the Republican presidential ticket carried New York City—a feat performed in 1920.

The governor planned a quiet day in his state house office. Tonight he will listen via the radio to the speech of acceptance by his running mate, Col. Frank Knox, in Chicago.

Democrats Will Open Campaign Six Weeks Early

Republicans Declare Move By Farley Is Confession Of Weakness

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 30.—Following a conference with Gov. Lehman James A. Farley, Democratic National chairman today announced the Roosevelt-Lehman campaign in the state would get underway Monday, six weeks earlier than has been the custom in past elections.

Farley's announcement was immediately hailed as a confession of weakness by Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., Gov. Landon's eastern campaign manager and Melvin C. Eaton, Republican state chairman.

"It shows they realize their weakness," said Martin. "We've got them on the run and they are trying to mend their political fences."

Farley announced the Democratic state convention would be held in Syracuse or Rochester on September 28 and 29. The Republican state convention will be in session in Albany on Sept. 29 and 30.

Both Farley and Gov. Lehman, who conferred at the governor's home at 820 Park avenue, denied the makeup of the state ticket had been discussed or that any reference had been made to the repeated report that they intended to shelve Lieut. Gov. M. William Bray for a candidate closer to the New Deal.

Probe Sinking Of Lake Boat

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, July 30.—Federal and state investigations were under way today into the sinking of the S. S. Material Service, which claimed fifteen lives in Lake Michigan early yesterday.

The seven surviving members of the crew on the ill-fated sand barge, were unable to offer any definite reason for its sudden plunge to the bottom in the choppy waters near the south Chicago lighthouse.

If the waves have subsided sufficiently today divers will be sent down to recover the bodies of the victims, most of whom are believed to have been trapped in their bunks below deck.

ANOTHER HALF CENT CIGARETTE TAX CONSIDERED

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 30.—Pennsylvania's cigarette smokers today faced the irksome possibility of "shelling out" another half-cent in taxes on each package of cigarettes consumed. It all hung with the legislature.

Casting about for some revenue measure to yield a needed $2,000,000, legislators regarded the cigarette tax increase as the most likely to be passed, although other measures were also under consideration.

Huge Crowd Enjoys Outing Of Grocers

Joy and contentment were much in evidence at Casca Park Wednesday as a crowd of close to 10,000 persons shared the eighth annual outing of the Lawrence County Retail Grocers & Food Dealers association.

Weather Is Perfect.
Unlike last year when Jupiter Pluvius threatened to spoil the event, the weatherman was most generous. With a warm sun beating down from a clear sky, residents from practically every district in the county turned out for the splendid program arranged by General Chairman J. W. Rupert and his efficient committees.

During the course of the day about 100 baskets of assorted groceries were distributed among the picnickers. The midway, where the baskets were given away, looked like a crowd at a county fair. The athletic contests, staged at the old pony tracks, created their share of interest for the spectators. Pie eating contests, milk drinking and freckle contests were some of the outstanding events.

NORTHERN SPANISH REBEL ARMY HEADQUARTERS, BURGOS (By Courier To French Frontier)

July 30.—Spain's white and red struggle today was in a sanguinary deadlock on a front extending clear across the peninsula, and while the whites in their headquarters here claimed small but significant advances, terror has gripped the populations behind the lines on both sides. Executions are now the order of the day in this civil war, which more than ever resembles the first phases of the Bolshevik revolution in Russia when Kornilov's white troops were advancing on red Petrograd.

Prisoners are being put up against the wall and shot, and in many sectors no quarter is given or asked.

Firing Squad Active

The shots of firing squads shatter the night air here in Burgos, where the white government announces the summary execution of its prisoners, like Captain Francisco Gordon of the Carabineros. He was captured leading the red militia in Espinosa de Los Monteros.

The whites also announce that in Sigüenza the reds killed a bishop

The desperate airmen volunteered to take up planes loaded with high explosives and crash into any government objective chosen by rebel leaders.

Across this broad and favored land there sounds the clarion call, for patriots to rally round in open field and hall. The nation needs some saving grace, each four years sees the need, and orators from coast to coast prepare to plant the seed. Republicans and Democrats are oiling up their throats to call each other fancy names, like reproaches and goats. And each will point with glowing pride and view with grim alarm, the things they've done both pro and con for factory and farm. The tocsin sounds, the tom toms beat, soon will the air be blue, with campaign speeches loud and low, the weather's eighty-two.

PA NEW C OBSERVES

Despite the fact that water is low in most of the streams in Western Pennsylvania, many camping parties are in evidence along the banks of the rivers and creeks in this immediate district. Weather conditions for the past week or so have been rather cool at night for camping parties. PA New is informed.

While spading his garden recently, Earl C. Lemmon, of 413 Lyndal street, uncovered an antique which dates back to 1864. He found an oval shaped tag with the following words plainly written on it: "Allegheny US Arsenal 1864."

Yesterday's eighth annual outing of the Lawrence County Grocers and Food Dealers proved one of the biggest picnics of the season at Casca park. About 10,000 persons were in attendance.

LIGHTNING STUNS SENATOR

Ohio Senator Has Close Call

Vic Donahey Knocked Unconscious When Small Boat Is Hit By Lightning

TWO BURNED HANDS SHOWN AS RESULT

(International News Service) SOLOMONS ISLAND, Md. July 30.—Knocked unconscious by a bolt of lightning which struck his small fishing boat, The Catfish, late yesterday, Vic Donahey, 61, D. of Ohio, had two burned hands today to show how he miraculously escaped death.

The bolt splintered the mast of the small craft as it was riding the waves of the Chesapeake off this fishing resort, blinded its captain and knocked the senator to the deck.

He was unconscious for several minutes and complained of his right side feeling numb. The boat, which the senator had chartered to take him to the fishing grounds, was near the mouth of the Potomac river when the storm suddenly appeared with its lightning crashes and high wind.

Donahey was helping Capt. Will Hayden to reach port. The lightning, which ran down a guy wire leading to the wheel, stunned Hayden's left side just as it stunned the senator's right side.

While Donahey fell unconscious, Hayden said he was only dazed and blinded for a few minutes. Others aboard the Catfish were not hurt.

The musical inclined spent the afternoon at Rainbow Terrace, where the grocers provided a most delightful program of latest tunes. Dancing was in vogue until a late hour. Bingo was another popular pastime.

In the cool grove, where an unusually large crowd enjoyed their picnic dinners, approximately 25,000 cups of coffee were provided. Summing up the whole thing in a few words, the event was most successful and proved one of the outstanding outings of the season at Cascade park.

Despite the large crowd, no serious injuries were reported, to mar the occasion. Several children were lost in the crowd but their parents were immediately located through the use of the public address system operated by Frank Hill, county controller.

Last night, Mayor Charles McGrath and Councilman Joseph Alexander, park director, were introduced.

Prize Winners.

A crowd that taxed the capacity of Rainbow Terrace witnessed the dance contests, one of the highlights of the day. The old fashioned waltz prize was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Green of 221 1/2 South Croton avenue; modern waltz prize went to Miss Ruth Raney of McClelland avenue and Paul Egan of 458 Croton avenue. The Fox Trot contest was so close that the toss of a coin decided the winners, Miss Erna Crespy, 709 Superior street, and Ronnie Thomas of 806 Morris street. The second couple was Mr. and Mrs. Augie Restivo, East Washington street.

Winners of the various athletic events: Women's egg and spoon race, won and pillaged the town, but that the whites now have retaken Sigüenza and are pressing on towards Guadalajara which is only 35 miles from Madrid.

MANY EXECUTIONS SPREADING TERROR THROUGHOUT SPAIN

Similarly, the whites report that a raiding party of reds from Barcelona reaches as far as Pina Del Ebro, only 25 miles from Saragossa. While troops from Saragossa threw the reds back to Fraga.

On their way through Gaspe the reds, according to white reports, murdered several priests and burned two churches.

Leader Is Executed

The white military command at Leon announces the capture of ten prisoners, including Jose Silva Val, chairman of the leftist coalition, who was immediately put to death, while the others were sentenced to life-long imprisonment.

Also the whites officially announced that in Carrara and Loral Del Rio they shot several reds for possessing arms.

These events have their counterpart in Madrid, despite their contact with the outside world through Valencia, the reds' political terror appears to be increasing, and the food supply is approaching a state of serious diminution.

The mayor of Madrid has ordered all farmers in the vicinity to hurry with their crop harvests.

British Protest.

One hundred forty British citizens have taken shelter in the British embassy in Madrid and have formed a committee for defense. The diplomatic corps, through its dean, the Chilean ambassador, protested to the Madrid government against the insecurity of the embassies, and dissatisfied with the replies received, the diplomats have threatened to withdraw to Valencia. Indicative of conditions in Madrid was the announcement of the mayor today that terror in the capital was the fault of the Fascists. Equally illustrative of the terroristic conditions in that city was Madrid's announcement that two white officers, Col. Fernando Chapuli and Capt. Enrique Robleda, had "committed suicide."

This, of course, is a commonplace euphemism for executions used in Russia and Germany.

Friends here of the Duke of Alba, famed No. 1 grandee of Spain, who also bears the English title of Duke of Berwick, report another development similar to the Russian revolution. They have received word that the duke has suffered confiscation of his famous palace of Liria in Madrid which contains one of the world's finest collections of Rembrandts, said to include 20 portraits of Alba's ancestors.

Palaces Confiscated.

The palaces of the Duke of Medina Cell and Duke of Infantado have also been confiscated, but, curiously enough, the property of the English Duke of Wellington, who is also the Spanish Duke of Ciudad Rodrigo, has until now been respected.

Here in Burgos the town is crowded with dukes, marquises, counts and wealthy commoners, who are contributing money and goods to the white army. Despite the intense sincerity of the donors, the sight of this hotel lobby piled high with gifts for the troops does not awaken confidence in the whites' service of supplies.

The gifts include 100 pairs of canvas shoes.

All night before the hotel door sit four youths armed with rifles, revolvers and knives. They are the bodyguard of the Count of Valdejalano, leader of the monarchist party, and of Senor Goicoechea, representative of former King Alfonso.

All the great landowners have induced their peasants to join up with the whites, but their reliability is not entirely without question.

Public lists are displayed of subscribers to the white funds, and the hundreds of names indicate that few citizens are being overlooked.

Closer To Madrid.

On the military front the whites report that on their extreme right flank their troops on the way to Guadarrama have reached Venta De San Rafael, which brings them still closer to El Escorial, near Madrid.

On the Burgos-Somo Sierra line, the white troops have advanced to the outskirts of Builago, which they hope to capture today, in order as soon as possible to cut Madrid's water supply at Lozoyuela, and afterwards to attack their next big obstacle, the high mountain village of La Cabrera.

On the white left flank they have come within 40 miles of Guadalajara, key point on the way to Madrid.

On their rear in the north the whites announce that their commander in the Baque provinces, Col. Aranda, has taken Trubia, although Bilbao is still in the hands of the government, as is San Sebastian.

In the south, the whites announce they have taken the port of Huevia, next to the Portuguese frontier and north of Gibraltar.

Madrid Gets Further Away.

Despite these optimistic reports, nothing is heard of any advance by General Francisco Franco in the south, and while a week ago there was talk of taking Madrid "tomorrow," the talk now is weeks or months.

The French leftist government has hermetically sealed the French frontier adjacent to that part of Spain controlled by the whites, and today as I crossed the border with this message, not only the ordinary guard but the famous guard mobile searched our car.

No arms may be sent from France to the rebel forces, and no Spaniards may enter rebel Spain from France, although the Paris government will allow any Spaniard to enter by way of Irun and San Sebastian, which are still in the hands of the Madrid forces.

Indicative of a possibly impending food shortage on the rebel front is the fact that on passing through Miranda, Vittoria and Campaña, all in rebel hands, we noticed a proclamation imposing rationing of food.

CEREMONIES TONIGHT FOR KNOX NOTIFICATION

lican adherents, converging on the stadium from all sides. It will be closed by an old-fashioned torchlight parade, escorting Col. Knox back to the loop.

Beside the principal addresses, brief talks are also to be made by Edward A. Hayes, former national commander of the American Legion and now campaign manager for Col. Knox and John D. M. Hamilton, chairman of the Republican national committee.

Col. Knox had already completed his speech today and planned to serve his time for greeting members of the notification committee as they arrive in the city. Clarence J. Brown, committeeman from Ohio, is chairman of the group which includes a representative from each state and territory in the Union.

AMERICANS ARE LEAVING MADRID

ports is functioning normally and trains are leaving on time."

It was apparent, however, that the Americans would travel at their own risk as the government stated "it would not be possible at present to organize special trains because of the necessity of giving preference to transportation of troops, war material and foodstuffs."

Wendelin said the diplomatic corps, in view of the government's attitude, had decided to arrange with the railroad for additional coaches on regular trains to Alicante and Valencia. He indicated that the majority of the 161 Americans who have been sheltered in the embassy during the two weeks of revolutionary fighting probably would leave for the coast in a body.

It must astonish the shade of Abe Lincoln to learn that government by the people means government by Harvard boys.

British Fleet Is Concentrated In Trouble Area

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 30.—The British government was reported concentrating its Mediterranean fleet in the Spanish trouble area today.

A Reuters dispatch from Gibraltar said it was "strongly rumored" most of the ships of the Mediterranean fleet were leaving Malta, Mediterranean base of the British fleet south of Italy, for Gibraltar.

From Malta came a Reuters dispatch saying it was reported unofficially a hospital ship had been ordered to Spain with the admonition "To prepare to receive 500 casualty cases."

CONTROLLER DIRECTED TO AUDIT ACCOUNTS OF ROBERT M. WHITE

City Controller Earl F. Wimer, at today's meeting of council, held in city hall, was instructed by council, upon motion of Finance Director J. Leon Fink to audit the tax accounts of Robert White, former solicitor for the city.

It was said that the other accounts of Mr. White had been examined and found correct, but an audit was desired, owing to McBride and Shannon surety for the ex-solicitor, having asked that the bond presented for White be returned, inasmuch as he is no longer the solicitor.

"FASHIONS FOR MEN"

NOVELTY PARTY FOR MRS. JAMES CAMPBELL

Complimenting Mrs. James Campbell, the former Margaret E. Reed of Fairfield avenue, a group of 16 friends motored early Wednesday morning to Presque Isle on Lake Erie for a novelty picnic.

At noon a long table was spread under big shade trees and decorated suitably for the occasion. A miniature bride and groom graced the center with tall yellow tapers on either side. An elegant menu was served by the hostesses, the Misses Ruth P. Wilson, Martha Faller, Leonard Stewart and Mrs. W. W. Hayward (Lucy Daubenspeck), all former associates of the bride at Arthur McGill school.

In the afternoon the group, among whom were guests from Cambridge Springs and Edinboro, enjoyed swimming in Lake Erie. Returning to shore, they donned their summer togs again and enjoyed an additional hour of pleasure.

A delightful shower of miscellaneous gifts for Mrs. Campbell featured as a surprise to top off the unusual innovation in holiday entertainments. It was really of double significance as the occasion also marked the birthday anniversary of Mr. Kate Stockman, retired teacher of Arthur McGill school, and she was presented with a beautiful gift by the four hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell are residing at 212 Fairfield avenue and on Wednesday evening they had for their guests Miss Helen Hindman and Howard Dinsberger, both of Butler, who were the only attendants at their wedding a couple of weeks ago.

S. U. V. Event Postponed.
The picnic planned for Wednesday for members of the Sons of Union Veterans auxiliary has been postponed until further notice.

FISHER BROTHERS STORE GIRLS OUTING

Wednesday evening a jolly group of girls, identified as employees of the Fisher Brothers store on East Washington street, formed a caravan and motored to Rock Springs park for a picnic outing.

Twenty were in attendance, and upon their arrival a most appetizing basket dinner was served at the long tables, covers marking for associates and Miss Mary Thomassy, a special guest.

Afterwards, they entered into a program of games, cards, dancing and swimming until dusk fell. At this point they returned and enjoyed a theatre party, bringing the evening's festivities to a close. It is anticipated to make this outing an annual event.

McGILL TEACHER HOME FROM TRAINING SCHOOL

During their summer vacations many local teachers are away on trips of one kind or another, some abroad and others in this country.

Among the girls who have had a truly delightful vacation period is Miss Leahna Stewart, of East St., nature instructor at Arthur McGill school. Miss Stewart has recently returned from a trip south where she spent six weeks in the Nature Training camp which she has attended at Richmond, Va., about 200 miles below Wheeling.

While there, she enjoyed some rare experiences among the most interesting of these related was a trip to Cranberry Glades, government owned property, which the public is seldom privileged to invade. Miss Stewart was a member of a party of 150 from the training school which one night journeyed to the Glades, a distance of many miles. During the early morning hours, they camped in "blanket rolls" till about 3:30 a. m. when they trudged into the swamp to hear the very first of that morning, amid most unusual surroundings. While there, they came across fresh deer and bear tracks, which only made the experience the "spookier," but happily say, not the less enjoyable.

After concluding her work at school, Miss Stewart and others visited Morgantown, and Arthurdale, W. Va., seeing at the latter place, the new colony in the government owned land. They also saw and talked to the miners in the vicinity.

Nature Training school experience this year were especially valuable and delightful as one of the faculty members was Dr. George M. Sutton, Dr. Sutton has spent two years of exploration around New Foundland, living with the Eskimos during the winter, and some of his experiences have been recounted in several of his books dealing with bird and animal life as well as humans in the north.

Since returning to New Castle, Miss Stewart has been camping along the Slippery Rock with a group of friends.

CLUB JOURNEYS TO INGRAM, PA.

Wednesday afternoon, members of the E. A. club motored to the beautiful home of Mrs. Charles Westfall, in Ingram, Pa., where they enjoyed a delicious dinner and held their regular meeting and social time.

During the afternoon hours the members engaged in a card tournament with prizes awarded to the following: Mrs. Jack Dunlop, Mrs. Elmer Tristman and Mrs. William Dukes. Mrs. Westfall proved herself a most charming hostess and the hours were whiled away quickly. Just before the New Castle members departed for home, Mrs. Westfall assisted by Mrs. Jack Walters, served them a light repast. The tables were placed on the lawn of the Westfall home and garden flowers adorned them.

One special guest, Mrs. Roy Samuels of New Castle, was present. It was decided to hold the next regular meeting in the form of a party downtown Wednesday of next week.

A collection of lovely gifts, were received by the guest of honor.

CASTLE BRIDGE CLUB RESUMES MEETINGS

High score awards were captured by Mrs. Charles Wetmore, Mrs. George Stoddard and Mrs. F. D. Perrine, at the meeting of the Castle Bridge club at the home of Mrs. Harold Leach on Delaware avenue, Wednesday evening.

As the girls had had a six weeks recess since their last meeting, the evening was keenly enjoyed, chat being varied with tales of vacation trips and summer doings.

A tasty luncheon was served at the dining room table centered with a bright bouquet of flowers. The hostess was assisted by her daughter Lois.

Wednesday evening of next week the club will have an extra meeting in the form of a picnic at the cottage of Mrs. Clarence Jarrett, along the Slippery Rock. The regular session in two weeks will be with Mrs. F. D. Perrine at her home on Moody avenue.

CASCADE PARK PICNIC FOR FIRST U. P. CLASS

Cascade park has certainly been popular with picnicers this summer, another affair of the current week taking place on Tuesday evening when the Sunday school class of the First U. P. church taught by Mrs. W. Scott McCaslin had a dinner in the grove at 6 o'clock.

There were 20 present, the number including husbands and boy friends of the girls, together with several special guests, including Mrs. McCaslin, Mrs. Robert McCullough, of Butler and Mr. and Mrs. Myrel McCaslin of Castlewood, Mrs. McCullough and Mrs. McCaslin being former class members.

The table was nicely decorated with gay garden flowers and steaming appetizing food which was keenly enjoyed by the group as a prelude to a pleasant evening at the recreation center. The committee in charge was composed of Miss Zella Patterson and Mrs. George Ward.

Plans were discussed for a wiener and marshmallow roast at New Wilmington in the near future.

FERGUSON FAMILY ENJOYING VACATION

On a card to Irvine A. Balph, of Wallace avenue, received today, Rev. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of the Highland U. P. church, states that he and the family are enjoying a "real" vacation, the fishing in New York state and Canada, where they have spent much time, being all that could be desired. The card was mailed from Malone, N. Y.

The Fergusons are on a month's vacation, seeing gorgeous country and having a fine time everywhere they stop. They have a new trailer with most of the home comforts aboard and the family is keenly enjoying the new experiences which they have had daily.

They will return about the first of next week, Rev. Ferguson planning to resume his work at Highland church the Sunday following.

FAMILY NIGHT IS OBSERVED AT CAMP

1934 CLUB ENJOYS JULY SOCIAL EVENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stenger, Edinboro, received members of the 1934 club in their home Wednesday evening, for their usual bi-weekly event. The hours were occupied with contests in cards, four tables of players competing for honors.

Mrs. Ed. Pritchard, Charles Andrews, Mrs. Ed. Fritz and Harvey Cooper were the fortunate winners of the awards at conclusion of the contest.

Mrs. Charles Freeman, shared as a special guest of the occasion. The delicious lunch served at a table hour by Mrs. Stenger, proved an additional surprise, inasmuch as it was carried out featuring the birthday motif, honoring her husband, it being his anniversary. A large cake adorned the center of the table, and other details suggestive of the same idea, completed the arrangement.

On July 29, the club members entertained their families at a picnic outing at Camp Perry, with a good number in attendance. This annual affair was launched with the serving of supper in the grove at 6 o'clock.

Entertainment followed, in the form of games and contests, for everyone. Those winning awards included the following:

HUMAN GUINEA PIG

CARL ERICKSON has found his newly-gained liberty something to write home about—if he had a home. Until recently he was a prisoner in a Colorado penitentiary and faced the hopeless monotony of spending the rest of his life behind high walls. Perhaps the thought of escape came to him but was evidently abandoned. He simply had resigned himself to the life of a felon and never hoped to see the outside world again.

If a certain incident had never happened, Carl Erickson probably would never be more than a number and ultimately would have found a convict's grave. But fate directed otherwise and Carl Erickson today is a free man, due to his honesty and courage. In December of 1934, Erickson and a fellow life, Mike Schmidt, were pardoned by Governor Johnson for their contribution to science. It was not an easy thing that they were called upon to do. They merely were to serve as human guinea pigs in the interests of science and if they lived they could go free.

It is to Erickson's credit that he disavowed any motives in the interests of science. He said he was taking the long chance in order that he might go free. Many men in similar positions would have used some lofty phrases about helping mankind. Not Carl Erickson. He simply gambled his life against the ravages of a tuberculosis serum and won.

NOT LIKE JOLLY OLD LONDON

After wrestling with half a mile of New York City traffic, 84 members of the Junior Motor Car Club of Great Britain in 33 automobiles have become firmly converted to the virtues of pedestrianism. Landing from the Queen Mary, they essayed to drive to their midtown hotel.

All they had to do was to contest the right of way with squadrons of trucks and taxicabs along the waterfront, cross Eleventh avenue, which hasn't any traffic lights, dodge around the elevated pillars on Ninth avenue, negotiate Eighth avenue during the morning rush hour and try to remember to keep to the right instead of the left, as is the rule "back home."

It wasn't a bit like dear old Piccadilly or Oxford street. But they came to America to see the sights. And it is safe to predict that the sight which will have made the most indelible impression on these youthful motorists was witnessed during their first quarter of an hour on American soil. They may find that the adventures of a pedestrian in this country are no less hazardous than those of a motorist.

SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE

Although the platform adopted by the Republicans in national convention at Cleveland, resolving that the United States ought to be kept free from entangling alliances inevitable through the League of Nations and World Court, met with the general approval of ninety-five per cent of our people, regardless of their political affiliations, there have been outliers from two or three confirmed internationalists, who believe that Uncle Sam ought to make a life business of playing Santa Claus and guardian to the rest of the world. To a great many people the criticism of the Cleveland plank on international relations, by those who have criticized it, will only prove the soundness of the plank itself.

These internationalists, who don't like the idea of Uncle Sam's remaining home to mind his own business, prefer to have the United States tied up in international arrangements, which will make it our "duty" to lend more money to nations who have already demonstrated their unwillingness to pay their debts, to interfere with men and money if necessary in problems in Europe and Asia which are none of our business, to give free advice where none is wanted, and to grant unrestricted entrance into our country of pauper made goods from Europe and Asia which will displace the produce of our own workmen and farmers. The American people want none of this kind of foolish procedure.

It is true, as has been repeatedly said by Republican and Democratic statesmen alike, that to tie ourselves into any sort of world-governing superstructure would obligate us to mix into every quarrel in Europe, petty or great. With Europe now divided into armed camps it would eventually mean, if we took sides, sending soldiers across the seas to enforce a decision in a matter which was none of our business and ushering in new meatless and sugarless days at home.

But that isn't all of it. We remember the old trite saying that "what is sauce for the gander is sauce for the goose." Our right to interfere in old world affairs would carry with it the right of Europe to mix in the diplomacy and politics of the New World.

It is interesting in that respect to note the statement made some time ago by a middle western senator to Arthur Brisbane, the newspaper columnist, to the effect that "an international court in 1778 would have kept this country a British colony."

This is a sound inference. If the colonists had been compelled to take their troubles to an international court packed with the representatives of countries who had their own colonies to govern in the New World, it isn't difficult to guess what would happen.

Now in 1936 if a New World problem were taken before an international tribunal controlled by nations which had a common interest in exploiting commercially the Americas, it isn't difficult to guess what would happen.

It goes without saying that any weather that makes the first page has to be bad.

Now we've reached the point where detectives call it a "mysterious death" if they can't find a bullet hole.

Of course association makes us think alike. People riding in the same car tell the same lie about the wreck.

Air conditioning is in operation in trains, subways, theaters, hotels and hospitals and may presently extend to popular songs.

A society of British pacifists is seeking a symbol. Our thought is Janus, the two-faced fellow, with three other cheeks to turn.

America's non-membership in the League of Nations spared us some embarrassment when poor old Haile Selassie got up and called aces, aces.

Another Japanese has been insulted in China, providing an excuse if one were needed, for Japanese appropriation of a few more square miles of Chinese territory.

King Edward Was Cool.

Dictators Are Kings.

Interesting Wanderers.

Harvey and Nellie Bly.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

BRITAIN is pleased, and well may be, with the conduct of the young King Edward, when a man, probably half or wholly insane, broke through the police lines, with a revolver, as the king rode in Hyde Park.

Numerous spectators, one American included, testify that the king cast one glance at the man, then rode on calmly, not hastening the pace of his horse, or again looking back.

THE KING'S display of physical courage, coolly leaving the armed man to those whose business it was to look after him, does not surprise his subjects, who had seen his daring riding to hounds and in steeple-chases, and had worried about his constant flying in weather of all kinds. But the British are much pleased with King Edward's display of coolness.

It will add enthusiasm and more intense British loyalty to the solemn crowning of the king next year.

WHEN THE Archbishop of Canterbury, in old Westminster Abbey, anoints the king's forehead with the sacred oil, placing on his head the crown of St. Edward, the new king will hold in his right hand the royal sceptre, in his left a globe surmounted by a crown, a globe of which the British Empire owns a share.

Campaign Opens In Farm Belt.
Roosevelt To Open Drive Soon.
Big Dividends Are Anticipated.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

THE OPENING guns in the 1936 election battle will be fired in the farm region. President Roosevelt will end his vacation by going directly to the drought areas to make a personal inspection. There will be many intimate talks in the process.

Reports coming in to this writer from correspondents throughout the nation indicate movements and counter-movements that bear little relation to traditional party lines.

MUST REPORT?
A question arises since the Coughlin-Smith-Townsend triumvirate is campaigning for their candidate, William Lemke, whether they are subject to an accounting, under the national campaign contributions law, for the money they receive and spend?

The Union party, of course, must make an accounting. But how about the money received and supplied by the National Union for Social Justice and the Townsend organization? And the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith?

Father Coughlin was instrumental in defeating an act before congress to cause an accounting to be made by all lobbyists. Thus money spent in lobbying for laws or in defeating laws need not be accounted for.

But if the NUSJ expends money to try to defeat certain candidates for congress as well as a president of the United States, and tries to elect others, what then?

A literal interpretation of the law would indicate that the NUSJ would not be subject to the accounting required of a political party. But it would be subject to inquiry by the senate committee on expenditures with a view to corrupt practices.

DIVIDEND YEAR
Next year may become the largest dividend year in the history of the United States—if business keeps up. But that is not the real reason. The new tax on undivided profits will force money out of corporation treasuries.

The dividends will be subject to tax. Some corporations, such as railroads, can expend a large share of treasury cash for replacements, thus escaping the tax. The railroads need replacements badly—and equipment companies need the business.

But the railroads needing replacements the most are in the hands of reorganization trustees—and have no cash to expend or be taxed.

FOOLISH QUESTION
A young lawyer from the north had a hankering for southern climates, and believing that a good lawyer could always find clients wrote to a friend in Alabama, asking him what the prospect seemed to be in that city for "an honest young lawyer and a Republican."

In reply the friend wrote: "If you are an honest lawyer, you will have absolutely no competition. If you are a Republican, the game laws will protect you."

Now why would a Republican lawyer think it possible to succeed in the South?

Ironically, principal enactment of this first democratic assembly was the adoption of a provincial seal picturing Queen Anne with an American bearing tobacco kneeling before her!

July 30, 1884—The United States had a woman nominee for the presidency three decades before women could vote! Mrs. Belva Lockwood, Ohio lawyer, was nominated by the Equal Rights party, with a man as vice presidential nominee. Mrs. Lockwood was again a nominee in 1888.

July 30, 1908—The first (and last) automobile race from America to Europe ended in Paris at 8 p. m. Three of the six cars which had left New York at 11 a. m. Feb. 12 managed to reach Paris, the terminus named by the newspaper Le Matin in arranging the race. The only entries which did not finish were French!

Original route of the race was from New York to San Francisco, thence up the coast to Alaska and across the Behring Sea by boat to Siberia, from there the rest of the trip was to be made entirely by land. But after one machine had ventured into Alaska and found it impassable, the entries were permitted to ship their cars from Seattle to Vladivostok by boat.

The German entry finished first by four days, but the American car was declared the winner because of penalties previously imposed on the Germans. The Italian entry reached Paris weeks later.

Henry Ford wasn't the first mass producer of automobiles. R. E. Olds first had the idea that auto should be produced on a large scale for sale at a low price, and astonished the industry by producing 1,400 in one year. Olds' connection with the industry now is as operator of a parking lot.

It cost the U. S. a four-year war to free its slaves, but Britain brought about emancipation in its American colonies for only $640,000. It simply bought up all slaves at an average of $60 each and freed them.

Social Security Pension Tax Is Scheduled To Start With Next January

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 30.—New Castle workers will find their pay envelopes short one per cent every week and employers are going to have their expenses increased by one per cent of their payrolls beginning January first, the social security division of the Internal Revenue Bureau explained here today.

One per cent of the wage of every worker—excepting farm laborers, sailors, social workers, government employees and railroad workers—and one per cent of an employer's payroll will go to the federal treasury under the taxing provision of the Social Security Act.

The act provides, moreover, that this tax shall be increased progressively after 1939 until it reaches a high of three per cent of workers' wages and employers' payrolls. This means that beginning in 1939, six per cent of wages paid in New Castle will go to United States treasury to help finance the new federal pension program.

Retire At 65 Years.

In return for their enforced contribution to this pool, employees will receive an insurance annuity policy from the government which will pay them approximately 3½ per cent of their lifetime earnings between next January 1 and their 65th birthday. When they reach 65, they can retire on this pension.

During the first year the plan is in operation—1937—a worker receiving $2,000 yearly in wages will be forced to turn over $20 of this to Uncle Sam. His employer will collect this by deducting it from the pay envelope. The employer, in turn, will have to duplicate this amount and give Uncle Sam $40, representing the $20 contributed by the employee plus $20 contributed by himself.

The size of the contribution will vary according to the size of the wages received, the tax being one per cent of the wages. The tax will be increased the following years until it reaches three per cent in 1939. In that year, the worker receiving $2,000 a year would find $60 deducted from his annual salary to help finance the pension program.

It is the employers who suffer most under the legislation. They get nothing from the pension plan. However, they are not only taxed themselves but are made responsible for the collection of the tax assessed upon their workers. They will be required to file intricate sworn statements.

Many well informed persons here believe the many court tests of the Social Security Act which are expected to be forthcoming will result in its nullification and thus remove this new taxation from both worker and employer.

GET GULFLUBE—It's "Stripped for action"!

He can't win many races in this outfit! He's far too hampered. And poorly refined motor oils are likewise handicapped. They're so hampered by waste they can't perform efficiently... waste such as carbon, gum and sludge-formers that should be removed by further refining.

Strip off some of the sprinter's clothes and he has a better chance—but not the best. Likewise, most 25c motor oils are rid of some excess waste material—but still not enough to give the best performance. Reason: until Gulf perfected its amazing Multi-sol process, a thoroughly refined 25c oil was not available.

Here's the sprinter stripped for action—ready for a record run. And GULFLUBE MOTOR OIL—"stripped for action" by Multi-sol refining—is ready to give you the finest performance of any 25c oil! HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking acids and wastes out of the blood. A healthy person should pass about 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, waste stays in the body and may become poisonous. It may start nagging backaches, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't let it lay you up.

Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills—used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills.

Beaver County Case Is Suicide

(International News Service)
CONWAY, Pa., July 30.—Death of David Stanley (Duke) Holsinger, shot through the head as the climax of a gay drinking party in a brick yard office near here, was recorded today as a suicide in the coroner's files.

Holsinger shot himself as two drinking companions looked on. One of them, Lillian Jones, 21, an attractive blonde, said Duke rubbed her lipstick on his face and then decided to shoot it off. J. J. Dilworth, 36, the other member of the party, substantiated the girl's story.

In recording the death, Coroner H. C. McCarter it was "an open and shut case of suicide."

"Fighting Tenth" To Meet August 8

All of the important battles of the Spanish-American War will be fought over again at Mt. Pleasant, Pa., Saturday, August 8 when the 10th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry regiment holds its reunion.

By unanimous admission of the regiment, the "Fighting Tenth" won the Spanish-American War. The incident at Manila Bay when a chap named Dewey took a fall out of the Spanish navy, the incident of the channel blocking by Richmond and Pearson Hobson, these and other incidents attending the final victory were secondary according to the members of the tenth regiment.

Only two members of the "Fighting Tenth" remain in Lawrence county. Attorney George W. Muse and Alex Coulter. On August 8th they expect to be in the midst of the verbal bullets that will fly at Mt. Pleasant and there'll be a hot time in that old town that night.

large slice; and the great crowd in the Abbey and British millions outside will feel that they have a king with good nerves, able to share the hard task of holding that great empire together.

CONGRATULATIONS on the king's escape, expressions of good will, and "faithful friendship" immediately reached the king from every corner of the globe. From France, felicitations were especially warm and numerous, from President Lebrun, from his cabinet, from the Chamber and the Senate, with all members standing and warmly applauding.

This French government, mixture of socialism and communism, thinks little of kings, but across the Rhine sits Hitler, and that means much.

THE FRENCH president expressed his joy at the king's escape, through the French ambassador in London; the Senate congratulated the House of Lords, through the lord chancellor of England, the chamber of deputies felicitated the British House of Commons, and all the messages were lengthy and warm.

GERMANY'S leader, Chancellor Hitler, sent his message to King Edward direct, and briefly, as from one king to another, no mention of Germany, or the German people in it.

"I learn at this instant of the horrible attempt aimed at Your Majesty. I express to your majesty all my cordial felicitations on having escaped from that danger."

THIS QUOTATION, translated from Germany into French and from French to English, probably lacks the Chancellor's vigor of expression.

Mussolini, leader and ruler of Italy, was even more business-like, somewhat on the American plan. He called his London representative in the Italian embassy by telephone and ordered him to:

"Proceed at once to Buckingham Palace and offer to the King all my cordial felicitations on his escape from this danger."

Kings have big names and fine crowns, but dictators have big power, and with no one above them in authority, this side of the sky, they naturally feel themselves at least equal to any king, bound to obey his Parliament, and make speeches that his ministers write for him.

However, kings, if they behave wisely as English kings do, have one advantage, their jobs are safer.

IF QUEER events please, your Paris newspaper never disappoints you. For instance, three wanderers, a man, probably a Turk, a woman, a sixteen-year-old girl and her 15-month-old baby are arrested for having no passport or identification papers.

It turns out that the three have seventeen identifications, among them one asserts that he was born in Constantinople, Bldah, Turin and various other places, and each the baby, excepted, has various names and several ages. The puzzled French judge said on general principles:

"Two months in prison, and deux ans d'interdiction de séjour. Which means, roughly, "after that, do not come back here for two years."

That is a custom in France.

A FRENCH lady writer thinks she has discovered in the Arabian desert a mysterious, deep cave, in which "Lawrence of Arabia" is not dead, as alleged, but drilling soldiers for a great uprising.

She thinks she saw Lawrence of Arabia come through a trap door in the floor of the cave, which, apparently, was not deep enough for him.

She is a renowned French lady writer and only the brave would question her accuracy.

Have you ever questioned the accuracy of any writer. If not, continue to refrain.

George Harvey is dead, or he might tell you what happened when he questioned the accuracy of Nellie Ely, who went around the world so fast. She was in the right, as it happened, Harvey said so. The only descriptive word he could think of was "Wild cats."

"THREE CHEERS FOR LOVE"

My New York

By James Aswell

Copyright, 1936, Central Press Association
NEW YORK, July 30—It saddens me to hear this thing about Eleanor Holm Jarrett, the twice-anointed Olympic swimming star. That she should break training rules and slip potatoes forbidden to athletes in so flagrant a fashion that the Olympians should have to cashier her is almost incredible.

I knew Eleanor in Miami during a brief respite a year or so ago and she struck me as a young woman who liked to dance and put on a paper hat on New Year's Eve, but she was certainly on the whole well-behaved intelligent and discreet. I distinctly recall an occasion when she declined with a wave of the hand and a fetching smile, a glass of bubbly stuff.

But it was clear all along that Eleanor had a difficult and troublous passage ahead, with whole flocks of Seyllas and Chardvyls flanking her course. In the first place she was too good a swimmer, she broke records and outdistanced competitors in the water without even bothering to stay in sight of the field. This begot hard stares from the other mermaids, who mayhap had seen Eleanor installed at a table in the Miami Biltmore dining room the night before prepared to wait for "Home Sweet Home" while they, ever-mindful of training rules, were shuffling off to bed at 10 p. m.

It is bad enough to be best in a highly competitive capacity; but to be best without apparent effort and with a gay scorn for the copy-books maxims is well-nigh unforgivable. If it is a case of being best without seeming to try and in addition being the best looking, there is little hope of happiness in this world.

Eleanor certainly was, and for all I know, still is the best-looking lady athlete ever heard of. The girls who specialize in brawn are apt to be on the grim side. They run to jaw and sturdy beam and frequently the Providence which is good to the bi-ops grows absent-minded about the face. But Eleanor had everything—both Hollywood and the Broadway merchants of Venus were forever camping on her door steps with contracts to sign. Then when she commenced to build up some reputation as a singer of torch songs with her husband's band, it was too much.

Now, while this reporter was being exposed without palatable result, to the higher learning, one of his friends was a remarkable young man who played on several of the school teams and yet managed to excel in his studies. He once confessed to me that he always remained in the examination room for the full period allowed and even though the quiz was often so simple he could bat it off in twenty minutes. To have handed in his paper and departed would have made enemies and, as I remember it, he hoped to stand for class office next term.

Eleanor is reported to have affirmed and later denied that champagne was an item in her regular training schedule. She may have meant it and she may have been kidding. But if she found it a boon to her stamina and wind to toss off an occasional dram of Veuve Clicquot, "I'll see no reason why she shouldn't have been permitted to follow the routine."

But she ought to have made a face and assumed a martyred and drinking her medicine. There would, very likely, have been no hard feelings in that case and no threat to the morale of the Olympic team. Moreover, it would have been a good idea for her to lose a race, now and then, when nothing crucial was at stake just for the sake of politics. And she might have insisted that her night club table always be in a corner, behind a palm.

The regrettable episode which evokes this piece occurred far across the sea and I am unfamiliar with the whole background. Surely, the Olympic officials acted as they did for the best interests of the team and American sportsmanship abroad. But I can't help thinking that Eleanor was penalized less for her failure to realize that a lot of girls work hard, keep all the training rules, never get tapped by Carroll or Metro, and still lose races.

Prothonotary John A. Seavers is now serving two life sentences, the other for the murder of his wife, Stella Seavers. It is rather fortunate for him that the sentences run concurrently.

Clerk Thomas Edmunds of the permanent registration bureau reports that quite a number of registrations have been changed recently owing to the removal of voters from one precinct to another. Very little change is being made in the party affiliations. Women who have been married since registering, are requested to come to the office and change their names on the records.

County commissioners have received copies of the photographs taken of the court house belfry and steeple. The silvered dome shows up beautifully, but it is impossible to recognize the features of the people who were standing on it. This is owing to the fact that the camera was located over a square from the court house.

An appeal from the decision of Alderman L. C. Mantz has been filed at the prothonotary's office in the case of the Cudahy Packing Company against A. and Pauline Shuler. The case grew out of a dispute over a bill and judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $22.69.

Maps in the register and recorder's office shows that there is one Indian reservation in Pennsylvania. This is in Warren county. It is called the Cornplanter reservation and is named after a famous Indian chieftain who was friendly to the whites during the early settlement of the state. Concert Given At Rentz Camp

WPA Musicians Present Excellent Program Wednesday Night

FAMILY NIGHT I ALSO OBSERVED

Before a crowd of parents and friends from New Castle and the campers themselves, the Works Progress Administration orchestra playing under Ben Shulansky's direction, presented another of its series of outdoor public concerts at Camp Rentz of the Y. M. C. A. last night.

The orchestra played in the "Katy Did" dining hall of the camp while the audience listened from seats arranged along the side of the building. The sides had been raised and the musicians' movements could be easily watched.

Classical and popular numbers were offered during the program and the crowd time and time sent up applause to make its appreciation known.

Assisting Mr. Shulansky at times was the orchestra's assistant director, Harry Hammond.

It was the first time the WPA group had appeared at Camp Rentz. Its performance there was arranged by "Y" camp leaders and Ralph S. Reed.

While the concert was the late feature, the early evening feature of the "Family Night" celebration was a baseball game between the camp's older boys and members of The Townsmen, civic group from New Castle. The game ended, amid a road of whoops, as the score stood at 13-13.

"Father's Night" will be observed at Camp Rentz on Friday evening, July 30, Physical Director Henry T. MacNicholas, the camp chief, announced today.

Dads of the boys are expected to crowd the grounds and listen to a talk-demonstration by Frank Ross of the Vitale Fireworks company. Mr. Ross is expected to manufacture fireworks and shoot them off all in one appearance.

Yet the beautiful lady you rave about, mister, would seem as ordinary as your wife is she happened to be your wife.

TAKE WEIGHT OFF TIRED FEET

Loose Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

If your feet and ankles feel tired and ache all over—because you are carrying too much fat—do something about it. Try the treatment that has helped millions to reduce excess weight.

There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often times futile in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little gland is not working right.

All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the blood stream about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat. This fluid helps Nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "draft" acts in a furnace.

Now, physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks—and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out in this way.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same method used by doctors. So don't waste your time or money striving to reduce with starvation diets or back-breaking exercises. Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait—get a box of Marmola today from your druggist.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Union Party Bloc Is Aim Of Leaders

Lemke And Coalition Group Expect To Have Formidable Representation In House

THROW STRENGTH TO DIFFERENT MEN

Central Press Washington Bureau 602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 30.—When they speak seriously the third party leaders themselves (the Lemke-ites, the Coughlin-ites, the Townsend-ites, the Gerald L. K. Smith-ites and assorted groups) do not contend that William Lemke will be presidentially elected in November.

In his speeches, as I already have had occasion to remark, Lemke does, indeed, assume that he will win, but he knows better, of course.

What the Lemke managers do assert with some appearance of sincerity, and what perhaps they really hope is that the North Dakotan will get enough electoral votes to throw the presidential choice into the house of representatives. I do not believe so, but it is a theoretical possibility.

A LOGICAL CLAIM

Finally the Lemke folk made a third claim which has a certain degree of probability. Though the Dakotan may (and, I think, will) be heavily outvoted nationally, it is conceivable that he and his allies will get a sufficiently formidable "bloc" into the lower congressional chamber to cause trouble for the ensuing two years at least.

The Unionists, as Lemke calls them, will accomplish no such result in the senate; the senatorial turn-over is not fast enough. But it can occur in the lower house.

TACTICS ADOPTED

Union party policy is not to nominate many Unionists independently, but to endorse either a Democratic or a Republican congressional candidate, district by district, depending upon which is more Unionistic in his expressed sympathies.

And, as many districts are pretty evenly balanced between Democrats and Republicans, in not a few of them the Unionists are likely to be the balance of power. It is a system of which the Anti-Saloon League made a success. It fizzled ultimately but it worked for a decade and a half.

Even so, the Unionists will not have a majority of representatives in the house of representatives in the seventy-fifth congress. But if the Democrats and Republicans are somewhere nearly 50-50 the Unionists may be able to decide between them—and bargain for their Unionistic demands.

WHAT IS IT?

Just what Lemke Unionism is heaven alone knows.

Dr. Townsend has his prescription. Father Coughlin says it's idiotic. Lemke is pro-Townsend and pro-Coughlin, too, besides having a plan of his own.

The Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith claims he has inherited the program of the late Senator Huey P. Long, whatever that was. Congressman Lemke is able to reconcile himself to the late senator's philosophy, too.

CAN HE KEEP THEM TOGETHER?

Representative Lemke, in short, has qualities of leadership. He brings conflicting elements together.

Whether or not he can keep them together is problematic. He probably can do so while they all are in a total minority.

He will not be elected president but he probably will be re-elected to his seat in the house of representatives; he is running both for the presidency and for a seat in the house.

In the house he will be the third party's leader.

This may make him, with a presidential campaign behind him, and a strong congressional "bloc" to support him, mightily prominent.

LEWIS INSTEAD IN 1940?

Lemke is gambling undoubtedly on 1940—a Farmer-Labor party. But it may, on the other hand, be a Labor-Farmer party—with John J. Lewis as its head.

Lewis doesn't think this the time to start the movement.

Lemke does.

FIND ROLL OF MONEY IN HERMIT'S HOME

(International News Service) NEW LEXINGTON, O.—When Leonard Glidden, 93, recluse and Civil War veteran died after being removed from his home in Oakfield, where he suffered a heart attack, more than $4,000 he had saved was found in a tin can in his house.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

DETERMINING HEALTHY MIND

WHAT IS a healthy mind? I made the best answer I can give in a recent booklet I wrote in collaboration with J. W. Irwin, entitled "School, Home and You." To quote: (p. 86) "That person has good mental health, who manages himself well, gets along agreeably with other people, and seldom worries. He makes his feelings his friends, not his enemies."

He builds in himself those habits he knows to be most useful to him as an individual and as a member of society. He works hard when he works and plays hard when he plays. Others like to work with him and play with him.

When he has a job, he does it wholeheartedly, and never seeks excuses to postpone it or to run away from it. He has the courage to face tasks he knows he ought to face. He is not a quitter nor a coward. He doesn't try to fool himself or others nor does he pity himself. He is ever ready to accept the consequences of his own shortcomings and does not blame others for his failures.

"Mental health is not a measure of how smart or intelligent a person is. Some very brilliant persons become mentally sick and some rather stupid persons enjoy excellent mental health. But it is a measure of how well a person uses this mind to get along with himself and with others. A better word for mental health might be emotional health."

Discusses Preventive Measures

I have discussed the matter in terms of constructive and preventive hygiene measures beginning with the young child and following him through his school and college life. In another booklet entitled "Learning to be Lovable," also in my books "Building Personality in Children" and "Developing Personality in the Child at School."

Since so many of my readers express interest in literature on mental hygiene, let me name an excellent book just off the press, "Mental Health" by Howard and Patry. It is written from the Johns Hopkins point of view, which breaks away from the usual emphasis on psychoanalysis. I guess I am enthusiastic since it is essentially the point of view I long have had myself. Then there's that readable book, "Keeping a Sound Mind" by J. J. B. Morgan, and another equally readable and practical "Keeping Mentally Fit" by Joseph Jastrow. "Wholesome Personality" by William Burnham is excellent. So is "Mental Hygiene of the School Child" by Percival Symonds and "The Human Mind" by Karl Menninger.

Leaders In Party Revolt Are Making Campaign Plans

Drive To Be Concentrated In Twenty States It Is Said In Political Circles

By WILLIAM S. NEAL International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The campaign of anti-Roosevelt Democrats while pitched on a national scale, will be concentrated in 15 northern and five southern states, it was reported in political circles today.

Leaders in the party revolt against President Roosevelt are said to be planning to base their campaign upon a political survey begun before Sterling E. Edmunds, St. Louis attorney, issued a call for a conference of anti-Roosevelt Democrats in Detroit August 7.

The drive is expected to embrace a wide territory from New England through the middle west, and to include Virginia, North Carolina, Florida, Louisiana and Texas.

Democratic political leaders refused to view the movement with alarm. They asserted that the futility of a revolt against Roosevelt leadership was shown in the failure of the campaign of Col. Henry Breckinridge of New York in the presidential primary.

Republican political leaders view the movement of the anti-Roosevelt Democrats with satisfaction. They professed to see in it the possibility of a Democratic split on a wide scale.

While Breckinridge failed to win any delegates to the Philadelphia convention, Republicans pointed out that he received many votes in several states without even making a campaign.

Another possibility in the dissension of the anti-New Deal Democrats is that powerful public speakers may be brought into the campaign.

Four leading anti-Roosevelt Democrats are regarded as among the best campaign speakers in the nation. They are former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, former Governor Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts, former Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby and former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri.

The decision of the anti-Roosevelt Democrats to form a campaign organization forecasts a big Republican effort to break the "solid south" as they did during the 1928 campaign.

The new tax measure isn't altogether new. The idea is original, but it contains the same old loopholes.

Day of Surprises At Cascade Camp

Girl Scout Day Camp Closes A Most Successful Summer Term With A Most Interesting Program

Today, the last of the Girl Scout day camp program at Cascade Park was filled with surprises for the campers.

This afternoon there were mock Olympic games with the campers divided into two groups, vying with each other for honors. There were major and minor events; the minor events were individual challenges and the individual who won for her side gained two points toward score. These included javelin throw, discus throw, pole vaulting, broad jump and cock fighting.

The major events, which counted five points for the winning side, included chariot racing and torch racing. The events ended in a tug of war between the competing teams.

The day closed with a treat for the campers, provided by the camp committee, which made possible the happy days, which have just come to a close with a most delightful day.

Convention headquarters at Wilkesburg is in the Penn-Lincoln hotel, where those who served with the 28th division will register.

AROUND CITY HALL

There is more non-taxable property in the Second ward than any other ward in the city according to the annual report for 1935, compiled by J. Leon Fink, finance director, and Earl Wimer, controller. The non-taxable property amounts to $2,390,090. The First ward is second in regard to non-taxable property, the amount being $2,024,940. The amounts for other wards follow: Third, $547,730; Fourth, $1,586,720; Fifth, $440,080; Sixth, $165,320; Seventh, $565,780; and Eighth, $707,730. The Second ward pays more tax than any other ward in the city, the amount being $199,977.06 and the Fourth ward is next high with a payment of $80,355.56. The tax paid in other wards follows: First, $65,968.52; Third, $51,549.50; Fifth, $30,826.54; Sixth, $28,304.53; Seventh, $53,921.58; and Eighth, $74,090.22. The total valuation for the city last year amounted to $50,870,900.

During 1935, the special payments made by the city were as follows: Bank loans paid, $80,000; 2 per cent fire insurance premium to Paid Firemen's association, $1,967.79; 2 per cent fire insurance premium to Volunteer Firemen's association, $1,967.79; pay roll certificates redeemed—Relief project certificates redeemed, $74,526.92, or $158,464.49. The report of Messrs Fink and Wimer shows the total payments by cash and certificates as $620,571.96, less payments made by certificates in above budget figures, $40,737.60, which left an actual cash disbursement during the fiscal year of $579,834.30.

Tax millage for 1936 is the same as it was in 1934 and 1935. In 1929, it was 12 mills and in 1924, 13½. However, in 1924, the tax for poor purposes, which was paid to the city, was three-quarters mill. Since then the poor district became under the jurisdiction of the county. The tax millage for the city for 1927 and subsequent years follows: 1927, 9½; 1928, 11¼; 1929, 13; 1930, 12; 1931, 12; 1932, 11; 1933, 10¼; 1934, 11¼; 1935, 11½, and the same rate prevails this fiscal year.

Mary Astor Will Give Testimony

To Face Cross-Examination On Asserted Affairs With Men

"HAS NOTHING TO CONCEAL"

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, July 30.—Statuesque Mary Astor of the films defiantly announced herself ready today to take the stand tonight and undergo "any kind of a cross-examination" about her asserted affairs with men.

"I have nothing to conceal," remarked Miss Astor following the spectacular testimony of Miss Nellie Richardson, 30-year-old housekeeper-nursemaid at her home, that four women had been overnight guests of Dr. Franklyn Thorpe, divorced husband of Miss Astor.

The actress is fighting to obtain legal custody of her four-year-old daughter, Marilyn, from Dr. Thorpe, who obtained an uncontested divorce from Miss Astor and custody of the child last year.

Miss Astor insists in her present legal action that Dr. Thorpe forced her, when she was unwell physically and mentally, to give him the divorce and legal guardianship of Marilyn by threatening to "scandalize" her.

Miss Richardson, following the divorce, worked for Dr. Thorpe as housekeeper at the Astor home for more than six months before Miss Astor returned from the east and purchased the mansion from him. Miss Astor took informal custody of the child under a "gentleman's agreement," May 1.

Impending Break In Relief Deadlock Seen

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 30.—An impending break in the deadlock on a relief program for Pennsylvania's half million needy today buoyed up hopes of "hunger marchers" entrenched at the capitol.

While hundreds of jobless milled patiently about the capitol corridors, refusing to give up their "siege" until relief is resumed, legislative leaders continued conferences that gave indications of nearing agreement. Action of the legislature was virtually at a standstill while various committees and legislative chieftains discussed a relief tax program "behind the scenes."

Final details of the compromise program, it was predicted, would be worked out at a conference of leaders with Gov. George H. Earle at the executive mansion late this morning.

As soon as the agreement is definitely reached, officials expect to make provision for immediate resumption of state relief, now cut off since last Wednesday.

Answering charges of Republican spokesmen that more than $1,000,000 was available in the state treasury from federal balances to provide relief, Karl De Schweinitz, state relief director, said the federal funds were all encumbered.

Grove. The group will meet at the church at one o'clock where transportation will be provided.

Three Persons Are Central Figures In Poisoning Of Baby

Murder Charges Are Considered Against Two Of Trio At New Kensington

(International News Service)
NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., July 30.—Three persons, each the parent of three children, today became the leading actors in a grotesquely repellent drama of three human tragedies as state police studied the brutal lye poisoning of an "unwanted" infant.

Murder charges were being considered against Jessie Hankey, 25, brown-eyed, brown-haired housemaid and a mother who, state police said, admitted pouring lye down the throat of 14-day-old Dorothy Louise Wagner.

Also held and facing murder charges was Kenneth Wagner, 30, the babe's father who, according to state police, employed Jessie as a maid while Mrs. Wagner was awaiting the birth of Dorothy Louise and admitted intimacies with the woman. Jessie accused Wagner of terrorizing her into doing away with the child, the police said.

The third actor in the human drama was Mrs. Dorothy Wagner, 26, mother of the slain babe, who charges her husband did not want Dorothy Louise, the third of their daughters.

BLAMES COMMUNIST AGITATORS IN HUNGER SIEGE

Cambria Senator Gives Impression

Says Crowd At Harrisburg Not True Representatives Of State's Needy

SERB ATTITUDE IS BLAMED BY SENATOR

By FREDERICK N. POLANGIN
HARRISBURG, July 30.—"Irresponsible communist agitators," not true representatives of Pennsylvania's half-million needy are behind the state capitol "hungered siege" Rep. Hiram G. Andrews, Cambria, Democrat charged today.

"The same crowd that forcibly took possession of the senate gallery," he declared, "would have also taken over the governor's chair and the entire state administration, had they the numerical force and opportunity."

Leaders Denounced

Although granting that in the group were many well-intentioned and honest members of the state's unemployed army, Andrews denounced the leaders as "professional hoodlums."

Never again, the outspoken legislator and editor predicted, will there be a repetition of last Monday night's demonstration when a crowded gallery of men, women and children kept the upper chamber from adjourning for more than two hours by derisive screaming, cat-calling and stamping.

Those responsible for permitting such a demonstration to continue have "learned a lesson," Andrews asserted. In a blast two days ago Andrews said if necessary "safety committees" should be organized to patrol the capitol and maintain order.

"The Serb attitude," he said, "was largely responsible for encouraging riot by practically announcing that they should come to Harrisburg—'raise hell and we'll feed you.'"

The state relief administration has supervised the provision of food and shelter for the "hunger army."

Given Favored Position

Pointing out that one group of the unemployed should not hold a favored position by being fed in Harrisburg while others "back home" were receiving no aid, Andrews declared:

"The people should have been notified that if they came here they would be on their own."

Andrews emphasized he was in favor of "mass demonstrations" that advocated legislative action by peace ful and orderly methods but made it clear that demonstrations which blocked legislative action "usurped the fundamental ideals of good, Democratic government." In conclusion, he warned:

"If the speaker of the house or senate agree tacitly in collusion with an irresponsible mob to permit disorder in the alleged interest of certain definite legislation, it will be necessary, either by the membership of the general assembly, by the law enforcing agencies, or by the public to take immediate action."

Pennsylvania Has Grand Canyon

A new land of awe-inspiring beauty is now available to the motorist, thanks to a new hard road and many new State forest parks. Pennsylvania's Grand Canyon, ten minutes from Wellsboro, Tioga county seat, is proving a mecca for tourists and week-end motorists from all sections of the East this summer. It comprises a gorge cut by Pine creek through fifty miles of state forests abundant with game and fish. State forest parks, built on the rim of the canyon, make it possible for one to now drive his car to the very edge of the canyon, and standing on lookouts one thousand feet above the creek, to view thousands of acres of state forests as far as the eye can see.

The fugitives are Andrew Gula, 25, and Wilson G. Sprague, 23, both of Sykesville, Jefferson county. They were sentenced last January to four to eight years imprisonment following their arrests in Maple Heights, O., on a charge of stealing an automobile in this city.

Making their dash for liberty at the end of the exercise period last night, the pair scaled the wall and jumped 30 feet to the ground outside the prison amid the encouraging shout of fellow convicts.

Tests At Penn State Show Male Drivers React More Quickly

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 30.—Women drivers react more slowly than men in time of braking emergency, according to the findings of a series of scientific tests given at the Pennsylvania State college.

The tests were given in conjunction with an original course in the teaching of auto driving offered by Professor Amos E. Neyhart, of the department of industrial engineering.

The tests, most of which were prepared by Dr. Harry G. DeSilva, of the Bureau of Street Traffic Research, Harvard university, were given to more than 1500 students from every county in Pennsylvania. Several hundred townspeople also took the tests.

Drivers submitted to five tests: For color blindness; for reaction speed in applying brakes; for glare resistance; for ability to estimate speed, and for steering co-ordination. Women were superior to the men in the color test only.

More than half the men were able to move their feet from the accelerator to the brake pedals in one-half second, but only 18 per cent of the women attained this speed. Average time is five-eighths of a second, according to Dr. DeSilva. Forty per cent of the women reacted in three-quarters of a second but none of the men required that amount of time.

Other results showed that women were 100 per cent correct in distinguishing red and green and that 14 per cent of the men were able to estimate three degrees of speed perfectly.

Charges Placed Against Youth At Greensburg

Vandergrift Youth Who Wrecked Train Charged
With Malicious
Mischievous

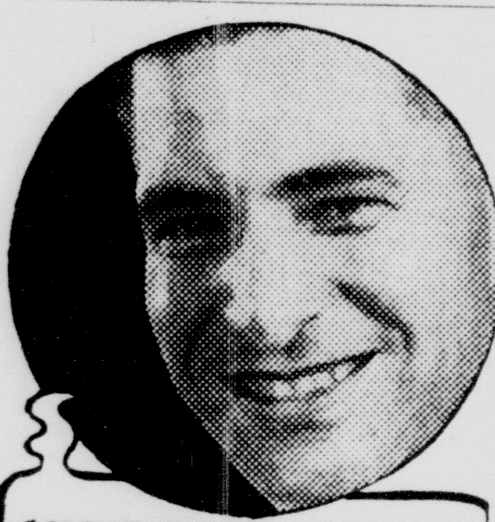

(International News Service)
GREENSBURG, Pa., July 30.—A charge of malicious mischief was made today by Corp. Jackson R. Dodson, of the state police, against William Coy, 12, of Vandergrift, accused of placing a piece of iron on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks near there which wrecked an 88-car freight train, killing the fireman and injuring the engineer.

Officials decided indefinitely against charging the boy with a more serious offense which might have hung his young life in the balance. Police said the boy admitted placing the iron on the tracks "just to see if it would flatten" last July 21. Fireman John E. Konkle, of Greensburg, near Pittsburgh, was killed and W. L. DeVinney, the engineer, badly scalded. Eleven cars were wrecked.

Coy was being held in the juvenile detention rooms here and was to be arraigned at the next session of juvenile court. His widowed mother has asserted her belief in his innocence.

Vicious Dog Gets Mistress In Stew At Ocean Resort

Mrs. Warren Van Dyke Under
$50 Bail For Dog Biting
Philadelphian

(International News Service)
OCEAN CITY, N. J., July 30.—Mrs. Warren Van Dyke's dog, a Scottie, today had stirred up plenty of annoying trouble for his mistress, a summer resort resident of the exclusive Ocean Court apartments at this resort.

As result of the Scottie's misbehavior, Mrs. Van Dyke, the wife of the Pennsylvania secretary of highways, today was under $50 bail on a charge of harboring a vicious dog. The charge was brought by Daniel Philyne of Philadelphia, who alleges the dog nipped a piece out of his trouser leg, inflicting at the same time a wound which required hospital treatment.

The plaintiff further avers the dog has bitten two other persons and declared he has witnesses to prove it. He brought the case to the attention of police, he explained, because Mrs. Van Dyke refused to make settlement for the hospital and clothing bills.

Mrs. Van Dyke said she made two unsuccessful attempts to contact Philyne. She added: "There was no reason for him to go to the police. The dog nipped him and that is all there is to it. I admit it and am perfectly willing to talk things over with him."

PARIS, July 30.—Two men convicted of passing American treasury bonds stolen a year and a half ago in one of Wall Street's greatest robberies were sentenced to prison terms and banishment from France today.

They were Bernard Klein, Hungarian, and Jacob Schwartz, Czechoslovakian. Klein was given four years in jail, fined 200 francs, and banished from France for ten years following serving of his prison term. Schwartz was given a suspended sentence of two years in prison, fined 100 francs, and banished from France for five years. The pair were sentenced by the Fourteenth Correctional court.

Klein and Schwartz were arrested in April on the Riviera on a tip by New York police. At the time of their arrest $440,000 worth of stolen negotiable bonds were recovered by French police, part of $1,462,000 worth that disappeared from the Wall Street offices of C. J. Devine & Co., in January, 1935.

WHEN WE CUT—"WE CUT"

Many Drivers Predisposed To Accidents, Says Doctor Analyzing 'Auto Fatigue'

(International News Service)
DETROIT—Once again it has been emphasized that most of our motor accidents today can be traced to flaws in the human mechanism rather than to any fault of the automobiles themselves.

"It is the human side of motoring, as distinct from mechanical faults of the auto and from road conditions, that is responsible for 85 per cent of our accidents," pointed out Dr. Andrew W. Ryan, psychologist and member of the National Research Council's industrial-fatigue division in a recent address here. "Motor-car and highway engineering have made marvelous contributions to traffic safety," said Dr. Ryan. "The next step must be a systematic study of the driver's problems. The mounting toll of highway deaths proves only that we have not learned to drive intelligently."

Dr. Ryan, who has been making a study of "auto fatigue" for a large motor concern, explained that "physical and temperamental faults cause nearly nine out of ten accidents. Impaired vision, defective judgment of speed and distance—a fault especially found in new drivers; color blindness; overweight and high blood pressure—two things which cause drivers to tire unduly, and muscular developments unequal to the task of prolonged driving—all of these physiological faults predispose drivers to accidents." Dr. Ryan laid many of the accidents to mental flaws on the part of the driver, commenting that "some of us aren't fit to be at the wheel of a pushmobile." "Unnecessary and therefore more tragic are the accidents caused by general cussedness and other mental flaws," added the speaker. "Some drivers, resenting police traffic control, grumble themselves into a state of inattention. Others lose their tempers over the actions of fellow motorists and thus impair their own driving judgment."

"Impulsiveness, timidity, general irresponsibility, lack of intelligence or of powers of observation—these," said Dr. Ryan, "are things which sometimes make us wonder whether the human animal should be allowed to drive at all."

The chief mechanical flaws in accidents, concluded Dr. Ryan, are poorly adjusted brakes and worn steering mechanisms, "which goes back to the human factor again, for it shows that some drivers do not keep their cars in proper condition."

Members Of 28th Get Ready To Go Back Home Again

Two Weeks Training At Indiantown Gap Is Almost Over, For 9,000 Men

(International News Service)
INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., July 30.—As the thunder of heavy battle subsided once again to the quiet of the surrounding hills, 9,000 National Guardsmen of the 28th Division today were packing up their "old kit bags" and looking forward to the end of their two week's annual summer encampment.

Tomorrow they will start to break camp and begin their journey homeward, and, by Sunday, the valley will be returned to nature pending arrival of the next unit.

Yesterday, the climax of the encampment, the guardsmen engaged in a "big drive," going through the actual maneuvers of warfare with full strength forces and equipment. Light training was scheduled for today.

Prisoners Taken To Penitentiary

Walter Braham yesterday, were taken to the penitentiary this forenoon by Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard. Hevorich is to serve from six to 12 years and Doyle from two to four years.

Berlin Gay With Colors On Eve Of Olympics Opening

Athletes Taper Off Light Training In Preparation For Big Events

Cunningham, Venzke And Pollard Are Favored To Win Races

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

(Copyright, 1936, by International News Service)

BERLIN, July 30.—Berlin presented a scene of strange fantasy today on the eve of the Olympic games with crowds thronging the hotels and sidewalks in oddly contrasting dress.

Of the provincials being brought in at the rate of 15,000 a day under Hitler's "strength through joy" movement, some wear Alpine costumes, others boatmen's caps and high boots that clump on the pavements, and the women wear peculiar headresses with costumes dating back to Bismarck.

Members of the modern aristocracy in glittering uniforms with swords at their sides dash about in swanky autos, while Nazi troops constantly march by in motor trucks, sitting up stiffly with military rigidity.

Flags Of All Nations

Flags of every participating nation alternating with the Nazi swastika, hang along the streets in such profusion as to give the city an almost barbaric beauty. The provincials are being housed at Nazi expense near the stadium.

Quiet was restored to the American scene today following the dismissal and secret departure of boxers Joe Church and Howell King.

Everything else is in order, except for the fact that reverberations are being heard from the speech of one American official who is said to have expressed sentiments of the diplomacy of which is questionable, as the result of a Nazi gathering, as the result of which both Nazi and Americans are embarrassed.

Are Out Early

The trackers were out early, this being the first sunny morning since their arrival. After clouds and rain all week, it is now becoming apparent that Saturday's opening will be graced with the usual "Hitler weather."

Glenn Cunningham, who is suffering from sore legs caused by overwork on the boat going over, may recover in time for his heats next Wednesday.

Gene Venzke has regained his mid-winter form, and Archie San Romani, another 1500 meter man, is training excellently. As are Forrest Towns and Glenn Hardin for the hurdles. Towns and Hardin did two pull flights yesterday, but they won't hurdle again till the races.

Pollard Stiff

Fred Pollard, another hurdler, is still stiff, but coming around, as his injury was found to be less serious than at first imagined. He will hurdle again today, then ease off.

Still working like a stevedore, Don Lash was out on the track a great part of yesterday afternoon, and all the other American competitors in the early stages are ready.

Mr. Roosevelt will campaign by discussing history. The idea is to discourage any interest in arithmetic.

New Bedford Pitcher Enters Hall Of Fame, Bedford Wins 5-4

NEW BEDFORD, July 30.—New Bedford tossed out the Lawrence Indians of New Castle 5-4 last night at New Bedford in seven innings of play.

In the first inning the visitors tallied four times without a hit. The locals then settled down to play errorless ball, meanwhile picking up five scores along the way to win the game in the last half of the seventh.

The game ended in a whirl of strategy when Noble, for New Bedford, with two out laid down a beautiful bunt to score Curry from third for the winning run.

Paul Grunewald on the mound for New Bedford pitched a no-hit game but his record is slightly marred by five walks which paved the way for two of the tallies of the Indians. Zikow for the Indians allowed six hits.

Lewis-Gainer Bout Tonight At Pittsburgh

Champion John Henry Lewis Believed In For Real Battle With Gainer

LEWIS FAVORED OVER CONTENDER

By TONY S. SMITH
International News Service Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, July 30.—Although the light heavyweight championship will not be at stake, enthusiasm over tonight's battle between John Henry Lewis, present champion, and Al Gainer, No. 1 contender, reached title-fight proportions here today as eyes of the fight world turned to Pittsburgh for news of a possible heavyweight contender.

Scheduled for Forbes field, the 12-round bout will supply the answer to a question long-around in light heavyweight circles—will the class be dominated by science and speed or by punching ability; will the boxer win over the slugger?

Predicts Knockout.

Lewis believes he will be able to evade the highly-touted "lethal left" of his New Haven opponent and even goes so far as to predict a knockout.

Gainer on the other hand scoffs at reports he will be no match for the blazing pace, the champion promises to set and claims he will put Lewis away in the early rounds of the fight.

Meeting for the first time, both fighters will bring to the squared circle impressive ring records. Lewis is backed by a string of decisions, most of which were gained by reason of his lightning foot-work and clever defensive work. Gainer totals with him an array of knockouts, nearly all of which were occasioned by his Louis-styled left hook.

Lewis Favored.

Prevailing odds on the fight remained at 6 to 5 in favor of the champion. Taking a cue from the fight history book, the wisecracks were favoring the boxer rather than the slugger. Too many of them recall the lesson Gentleman Jim Corbett taught the immortal John L. Sullivan, the shellacking Gene Tunney handed Jack Dempsey, to say nothing of the "smarting up" Joe Louis walked into when he met the clever Schmeling.

His immediate chances for a shot at Heavyweight Champion James J. Braddock clouded by preference of Madison Square Garden management for a Braddock-Schmeling bout, Lewis is reported determined to clean up the 175-pound division with a decisive win over Gainer.

Both Are Popular.

Fighting on an average of twice a month, Lewis is favorably hailed among the cauliflower fraternity as a "fighting champion."

Gainer is likewise popular with the fans for his reputation as a slugger.

Limbbering up routine completed, the fighters were to weigh in at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Lewis is expected to weigh 176 while Gainer likely will tip the scales at 177.

Should Gainer upset the dope bucket and register a win over the champion he could easily demand a title bout before the end of the summer. If the champion wins, however, he may fatten up and try his luck in the heavyweight class.

With the attendance estimated by Promoters Elwood Rigby and Jake Mintz at nearly 15,000, the affair promises to be the largest boxing show staged in this district since Teddy Yarosz met Vince Dundee for the welterweight championship.

How does a dictator feel? Well, you know how you feel when you sit on a cushion and honk for curb service.

Firemen Upset West Pittsburgh By Score 6 To 3

Thornton Hurls Fine Game, Clyde Jackson Stars With Daring Base Running

Sixth Ward Firemen hung up victory No. 21 last night at the Lee avenue field by defeating West Pittsburgh by a score of 6-3.

For the Firemen Manager Zeliger selected George "Shorty" Thornton, his curve ball artist, to face the former county leaguers and he came through with a fine performance, allowing but six scattered hits for a total of three runs. Nine men whiffed the breezes behind his tantalizing slants. He was never in danger throughout the seven inning contest.

For West Pittsburgh "Ace" Lamm took the mound against the Fire Eaters and he also hurled a steady game, allowing but seven hits, but the Firemen bunched their hits when they meant runs and scored six times on Lamm.

Clyde Jackson gave the large crowd of fans a fine sample of base running. Reaching third base, Jackson stole home and again while occupying second base, he stole third and then continued home on the overthrow.

Eleanor Jarrett Makes Hit With German Children

Eleanor Learns That Boxers Were Dismissed For "Taking Souvenirs"

By ELEANOR HOLM JARRETT
(Copyright, 1936, by International News Service)

BERLIN, July 30.—It's a funny world, Frederick Rubien, secretary of the American Olympic committee, told me today that Howell King and Joe Church were "kicked off" the boxing team for taking souvenirs.

Well, just what he meant by "taking souvenirs" is something I don't understand. I frankly don't know the facts of the case, but I hope the committee has not put through another unjust ruling.

I trained again today and I'm feeling fine. This time the people recognized me while I was practicing in a public pool, and they all asked for autographs.

Invited Back.

The owners invited me back, saying I would not have to pay the pool charges. As a matter of fact, this was the first time in my life I ever had to pay for admission to a pool.

The tank was filled with the healthiest, sturdiest children I have ever seen in my life. They were cute. Not speaking English, they crowded around me, throwing questions at "Holm." I had a wonderful time.

Incidentally, I received several cables with film and vaudeville offers, but I am not accepting any until my husband, Art Jarrett, who is on his way, arrives here.

I want to say I am awfully grateful to those hundreds of people who sent me cables of consolation. It's a nice feeling to know that people believe in you.

Friedrich Wilhelm, the former crown prince—what a thrill!—sent me a huge bouquet of flowers and an autographed picture on which he added: "Welcome to Germany."

Today I went out to the Olympic pool where the Japanese were practicing, and there I found the American coach, Fred Cady and Clarence Pinkston, quite excited over the diving ability of two Japanese men, Shibus and Hara, and one girl, Miss Osawa.

Japanese Good.

The coaches told me that in technique and form, as well as grace, these Japanese equal the American divers. This is the first time in the history of Olympic diving that the American team has ever been assured of any real competition.

On the other hand, Ann Govednick, the Minnesota girl entered in the 200 yards' breast stroke event, told me that she has been unable to enter the water since she disembarked from the Manhattan, because of ear trouble which developed on the boat, and was not cared for.

All I can say is I wish the swimming and diving teams luck.

Merchants Trim Keystones 11-5

The South Side Merchants handed the Keystone A. C. a 11 to 5 defeat last night at Carnegie field in a postponed Class B league game.

Sniezek had the better of Morando and Adams on the mound, giving the Keys but 10 hits. The Merchants had 13 hits.

"Alabama" Kirtl featured the game with a screaming homer.

Keystones . . . 112 000 001-5 10 3

SCIENTIFIC WEATHER FORECASTER

Since his mathematical formula for forecasting the weather two years in advance is said to have been found to be as high as 94 per cent accurate, the United States navy has taken an option on the services of Professor Selby Maxwell, Chicago scientist. Professor Maxwell shown above perusing a copy of a weather chart. He also produces, predicted, last February, the present drought. He also broadens warnings of the eastern floods last spring. The professor's explanation of the drought is that it is caused by absorption by the moon of the earth's gravitational energy, deflecting the Caribbean rains to the Gulf stream, sending them out over the ocean instead of inland.

As Dr. Kanter, shown above with the mother and baby, predicted that hypnosis may be used generally in obstetrical cases to free mothers from the pains of childbirth, noted obstetricians and the president of the American Medical association expressed skepticism.

Pennington Asks Action On Bills

State Welfare Director Asks For Action On Old Age Assistance Bills

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 30.—Commander John D. Pennington, secretary of welfare, today asked Senator Frederick T. Gelder, R., Susquehanna, chairman of the senate appropriations committee, to report out the mothers' assistance and old age assistance bills for final senate action.

Spiking reports he was not "deeply interested" in the two social security measures, Pennington wrote Gelder: "It is my earnest wish and desire that you report these two appropriation bills out of your committee so as to enable Pennsylvania to take advantage of the proffered federal assistance and to relieve the mental anguish and the pressing distress which these two measures would alleviate."

The two bills, carrying total appropriations of $2,350,000, have passed second reading in the senate and were sent back to committee. The mothers' assistance measure carries a $600,000 appropriation, while the old age measure provides for a $1,750,000 appropriation.

STANDARDIZATION OF POULTRY PROGRESSES

HARRISBURG, July 30.—With 130,265 poultry already entered for selection, the poultry standardization work of the Bureau of Markets is more than a month ahead of last year. J. Hansell French, secretary of agriculture, reported today.

The bureau is desirous this year of doing more of the standardization work during July and August, thus avoiding the rush that usually occurs later in the year, and asks the co-operation of the poultry men by entering their birds at once.

E. J. Lawless, Jr., supervising poultry inspector, reports unprecedented interest on the part of the poultry industry this year.

Drill Hour Changed As Flood Lights Are Erected At Drill Field This Week

Troop F, 103rd Cavalry, will drill on Friday evenings, starting this week. This has been made possible by the erection of new flood lights at the field.

The troop has been drilling on Sunday afternoons this summer and the change will enable the polo players in the troop to practice and play on Sunday afternoons.

Two matches are pending with the troop, Sunday afternoon, August 2, the Old Furnace team of Zelenople, which moved out the troopers several weeks ago by a 9-3 score, will be here for a match and on the following Sunday, August 9, the South Hills team of Pittsburgh will be met here.

INDIAN STUMPED POLICEMEN ON HEAD TAX FACTS

(International News Service)
DETROIT, July 24.—James Leaf, 28-year-old Indian, took time out to explain a little American history to policemen of the Detroit police department when he recently paid them a visit.

Leaf came to police headquarters to claim his nephew, Gilbert Cadyan, 8, who strayed from the Leaf home where he went to buy an ice cream cone. The boy was found and turned over to the police-women's division.

When Leaf explained that the Canadian family had just come to Detroit from Montreal, policemen asked whether they had paid their head tax.

"Head tax!" spluttered the indignant Indian. "We, who held these lands before policemen were invented, pay no head tax! Let me tell you that the United States and Great Britain, in the treaty that ended the war of 1812, agreed to let the Indian cross the border as he pleased."

And stonily eyeing his questioners, Leaf proudly drew himself up and stalked out of the building with his nephew.

Bottles Big Spider In Banana Car As Workers Unload It

A furry "banana spider" slipped out of a bunch of bananas which Charles Scaduto, 1901 Hamilton street, was handling in an east side freight yard this morning—and his then the tarantula's freedom ended.

Scaduto fears none of the ugly looking spiders, not even the large ones like he captured today.

"Why fear?" he asked. "That would only make my job worse."

The full carload of bananas was being unloaded as Scaduto, employed by a wholesale fruit dealer, spotted the creeping spider. He was wearing gloves when he saw it. He rushed for a bottle and a stick and within a few minutes had bottled his captive.

"I've caught several before," the fruit man said when he exhibited his live catch at The News. "This one, though, is about the largest."

Incidentally, The News staff didn't accept Scaduto's offer. Not banana spiders—big or small!

Wealthy Brides Are Victims Of Band Of Thieves

(International News Service)
BUCHAREST, Rumania.—Based on the psychological principle that an excited person is a thief's easy victim, a band of elegant Rumanian pickpockets have specialized exclusively in snatching jewels from rich young brides at the very moment when they are being congratulated in front of the altar by their friends and relatives, just after the wedding ceremony.

Numerous young brides belonging to the richest Rumanian families were recently left without pearl necklaces and diamond bracelets at the happiest moment of their lives. Smartly dressed, the pickpockets mixed with the crowd of friends and when they congratulated the flushed young wife, they deftly snatched her jewels.

Owing to the unusually great number of such wedding ceremony thefts, the police have taken special measures to protect rich young brides, but the band of elegant, psychological pickpockets is still at large.

TOOK HIM 11 YEARS TO ACCEPT $4,624

(International News Service)
DETROIT, July 24.—It took 11 years for Mrs. Bertha Kuhjant to convince her husband Herman Kuhjant, Taylor Township farmer, that he ought to accept $4,624 due him from the estate of his father who died in 1910.

Kuhjant opposed the sale of his father's 40-acre farm after the court has ordered it sold in 1924 to facilitate the distribution of the assets among the heirs. Kuhjant, a sister, and three grandchildren. The farm was sold the following year and for 11 years he refused to collect his money from the sale, which brought $19,000. Now he has asked the court to reopen the estate case in order that he may obtain his money.

"Herman was sort of hard to convince," said Mrs. Kuhjant. "I've been asking him to get that money for 11 years now, but he was mighty stubborn. He's given in now, however."

PIGEONS ENCOUNTER FOG; 3,000 ARE LOST

(International News Service)
BERLIN.—Berlin breeders of carrier pigeons are in mourning.

From a mass start of 6,000 pigeons arranged at Helmsstedt, only 112 miles west of Berlin, not more than 150 reached their homely dovecot at Berlin the same night. Nine hundred returned by the next day.

Many others were found entirely exhausted in Silesia, Saxony or even in South Germany, but there remains a total loss of 3,000 pigeons.

The pigeons encountered thick fog over the Elbe river and, though they never mind rain or cold, fog makes them lose their direction.

Y. W. C. A. Camp To Close Friday

Traditional Farewell Night Program Slated; Minstrel Planned

At a fitting farewell program which will feature a minstrel show written by a group of the campers, Camp East Brook of the New Castle Y. W. C. A. will close for the summer on Friday night.

The evening celebration, a part of which will be the traditional closing campfire, will bring to an end one of the most successful camp seasons in the history of the city's Y. W. C. A.

Throughout the past six weeks the girl campers have enjoyed outdoor life at its best and participated in planned recreational activities under the general supervision of Miss Elizabeth Glover, the camp director. Miss Glover's program was ably carried out by a staff of eight counselors.

The Friday night program will commence at 7 o'clock, it was announced here today. It is expected that a large New Castle turnout will witness the festivities.

A track meet was enjoyed by the campers earlier in the week and today, under the guidance of trained lifesaving examiners, the girls are taking lifesaving tests in the camp pool.

A group of 55 girls has enjoyed each of the two two-week camp periods.

Sheriff "Pours" At Court House Party

Disposes Of One Hundred And Twenty-Five Gallons Of "Moonshine"

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard "poured" at a little party held in the basement of the court house yesterday. The occasion was the disposal of one hundred and twenty-five gallons of moonshine, which had been confiscated when a still, operated by Harry Mooney, Patsy Santo and Kenneth Walker, in the first ward was raided by the police.

The moonshine, impounded in twenty-five cans of five gallons each, had been stored in the basement of the court house since the trial of the case. It was carried into the washroom and poured into the sewer. The big still which was confiscated was also taken out of its hiding place deposited in the jail yard, preparatory to being taken away.

Mooney, who was sentenced to the workhouse, was discharged the other day, but Butler county authorities were in waiting for him on some charge in that county.

The heavy-footed guardsman brought honor to his regiment by winning the holy-contested shoe race in which 30 entrants hurled their shoes into a pile and then tried to find their own. Kokko was the only contestant who had no trouble picking out his own shoes.

Court Refuses To Discharge Executors

Judge W. Walter Braham filed an opinion at the probatory's office today in which he refused to discharge Harry A. Harris and Thomas P. Harris, executors in the estate of the late Walter L. Harris of Ellwood City.

Petition for their discharge was presented to court by Lois M. Harris, widow of Walter L. Harris, who charged there was a lack of interest and an unfriendly attitude toward the beneficiaries under the will of her husband.

In his opinion Judge Braham does not attempt to settle the question of the ownership of the business, but does find that there was no fraud or bad faith on the part of the executors and no valid reason for their discharge. The petition for their discharge is accordingly dismissed.
